BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take bold of the trouble and guickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets-the

About ten of these were good prospects for membership in the council. Senior Councillor Tingley opened the meeting at 3 o'clock with cordial welcoming words for all present and introduced Mayor Ernest E. Rogers as the first speaker. The mayor responded in his usual fecilitous way, expressing the welcome that the city felt for knights of the grip and extolling their enterprise and hustle as one of the big factors in the commercial success of this country.

George Hunt of Boston, supreme junior counseilor, was the following speaker, and interested his audience thoroughly as he described the purposes of the commercial travelers' organization or told of its growth and accomplishments in the years since it started. What he said was particularly informing to the visitors, giving them an insight into what the standing U. C. T. is, and they expressed much interest in what they had heard. It is anticipated that Norwich council will receive some valuable accessions to its ranks as a result of the meeting.

THE PENITENT'S CONFESSION.

Like Leper's Beseeching Cry to Christ to Be Cleansed-Rev. Myles P. Galvin Preaches at St. Patrick's Church. Yesterday in the Roman Catholic church was the third Sunday after Epiphany. The gospel read at all the masses was from Matt. viii. 1-13, narrating the miracle of the cleansing of the leper. The preacher at the high mass in St. Patrick's church was Rev. Myles P. Galvin, whose text was chosen from the day's gospel and was the beseeching cry of the leper, "Lord, if Thou wilt, Thou canst make me clean."

On Saturday night, in every city, said the preacher, there will be those who will separate themselves from the thoughtless, gay crowds in the streets, to enter the open door of some Catholic church. Perhaps among these persons may be some man who goes as did the leper, unmoved by looks of made clean. Years may have elapsed Hulbert gave an account not only of since such a moment of grace has his own adventures while introducing come to that soul before. There may be crimes, sins, staining it with leprosponding sy which only God can cleanse.

For more than an hour and a half on Sunday afternoon the patients and staff at the Backus hospital enjoyed a musical programme that was given for them through arrangements made by Mrs. John Lyons and Mrs. John A. Brady of the Sacred Heart parish, Norwich Town.

There were both orchestral and solo numbers and the whole programme was one with which those favored in hearing it showed their deep appreciation.

The following were the selections, Mrs. Elizabeth Geary Danihy playing the accopainments:

Violins, Miss Irene Wholey, Frank Eenson; cornet, E. LaRue Bliven; 'ceiton's which only God can cleanse.

As such a penitent kneels before the church altar, he beholds the crucifix, image of the dying Christ. Looking into his own soul repulsive in its leprosy of sin, he realizes that he has caused the sufferings of that dying Saviour, that he has rejected, offended, insulted God.

He might despair, did not Chrict invite him to return, as did the Prodigal Son to his Father's house, with a promise of pardon even for the most terrible of sins. He is encouraged, too, by the Saviour's promise, "Come unto Me, all ye who labor and are heavily burdened, and I will refresh you." "Whose sins ye shall fogive, they are forgren."

In the quiet of the chyric, he penident kneels before the church altar, he beholds the crucifix, image of the dying Christ. Looking into his own soul repulsive in its leprosy of sin, he realizes that he has caused the sufferings of that dying into his own soul repulsive in its leprosy of sin, he realizes that he has caused the sufferings of that dying and caused the sufferings of the dying church altar, he beholds the church altar, he beholds t that man goes out, the scales of sin's leprosy cleansed from his soul, prom-ising amendment and reparation for his misdeeds. His contrition has been genuine, his soul has been freed from the awful burden of sin, he has courage to begin life again after his wasted years, his leprosy cleansed.

THE ORIENTAL CHESSBOARD. Subject of Interesting Lecture by H B. Hulbert at Wheeler School

A large audience listened Friday evas did the leper, unmoved by looks of derision or aversion from the crowd because God's grace has come to his er school, North Stonington, on the soul and with it a yearning to be subject The Oriental Chess-board. Mr. so gave a clear exposition of the con-ditions of China and Japan resulting from the introduction of western ideas. To many people the word lecture means a "dry" and unintersting talk but those who heard Mr. Hulbert agreed that he was a charming speaker who not only knew of what he was talking, but had the power of making others see. others see.
